

Uzbekistan Airways organized an excursion for schoolchildren from Specialized Secondary School № 60 in Tashkent

The pilot of the Boeing 787 aircraft told children about the aircraft's structure and answered questions from those who have decided to connect their future with the sky.

Image not found or type unknown

The schoolchildren visited the hangar of the Uzbekistan Airways Technics maintenance facility, where they had a unique opportunity to observe and learn about the repair and maintenance processes of aircraft.

Image not found or type unknown

Such excursions inspire young minds and cultivate interest in the aviation industry for future professionals.

Image not found or type unknown

Image not found or type unknown

Image not found or type unknown

Image not found or type unknown

